Brik

Designer: Massimo Castagna

Brik is the new collection of sofas designed for Bonaldo by Martina and Massimo Castagna. The name, which refers to the brick as a symbol of modular design, is a tribute to the design essence of the sofa. The system comprises a central section, a corner element, a pouf and an armchair, all of which share a soft and welcoming aesthetic. Featuring a compositional criterion typical of the 1980s, the modules can simply be placed next to each other, overcoming the rigid and formal patterns that have become established in recent years. In terms of size and context, Brik is ideal for a vast range of configurations, from individual compositions that are perfect for residential living areas to large-scale solutions in more extensive spaces in which each element becomes a single seat, single-sided or double-sided, thus giving space to a new concept of conviviality.
